New Extension of the Capital Library (Beijing)

建成时间 Completion Year : 1999
建设面积 Building Area : 37 000m²

首都图书馆是综合性大型公共图书馆，位于朝阳区南磨房华威桥东南侧，地上8层，地下1层。设置各类阅览室17个，阅览座位1000余个，设计藏书量400万册。建筑平面取1/4扇形，围合中心广场，形成强烈的聚合力。正立面恰似一展开的长卷，带来强烈的书卷气息。主立面中央为一巨大的牌楼造型，成为整个建筑的核心和统率。主入口处玻璃幕墙形成的中国建筑殿堂形象正是国子监大殿辟雍的剪影。辟雍的形象既代表首都，又代表知识的大门。

The Capital Library is a comprehensive large-scale public library located on the southeast side of the Huawei Bridge in Nanmofang, Chaoyang District, with a basement and eight floors above the ground.

The library has 17 reading rooms for different categories of books, more than 1,000 reading seats and a collection of 4 million books. Taking the shape of a quarter of a fan, the building encloses a square in the center, which has become an attraction to the communities around. The front elevation looks like an unfolding scroll of a book, creating a strong academic atmosphere. A huge archway is placed in the center of the main elevation to define the core of the entire building. The image of the Chinese architectural hall formed by the glass curtain wall at the main entrance is the silhouette of the ancient imperial university, which represents the identity of the capital and the entrance to knowledge.
