Xuzhou High-Speed Railway Station Project Plot J is adjacent to Zhushan Road at north, Zhanchang Road at east, Gaotie South Road at south and Zhanqian Road at west. Functional orientation of this project is integration of commerce and hotel, which requires relatively high development standard. The planning is based on the principle of "two zones, one axis and multiple points" to form a completed and harmonious integration of commerce and hotel business functions, showing clear and rational spatial planning layout and realizing reasonable connection with urban space and perfect links among various functional areas on this plot. Buildings consist of three parts, including holiday hotel tower building, commercial podium building and commercial area at west. The tower building and podium building have favorable spatial contrast and perception of depth, while podium building adopts consecutive facade treatment to produce extended, balanced, generous and solemn appearance.
